● ABOUT ME

Versatile and Driven Java Developer with over 7+ years of expertise in API/Technologies, Cloud Solutions, and Big Data Processing. I have a proven track record in Java 8, Microservice Architecture, and Continuous Integration and Delivery. As a Java Tech Lead, I successfully led a project within a 6-month timeframe, showcasing effective leadership and project management skills.

In addition to my core Java skills, I have a unique proficiency in prompt engineering, harnessing technologies like ChatGPT to enhance communication and streamline workflows. This strategic use of ChatGPT demonstrates my commitment to staying at the forefront of innovative solutions.

My hands-on experience extends to a variety of technologies, including MongoDB, Kafka, Docker, and AWS services such as EC2, RDS, and IoT Core. Passionate about cutting-edge tech, I specialize in Message Queue technologies like MQTT and Event-Driven Architecture. Proficient in Test-Driven Development (TDD) and a strong grasp of NoSQL databases, including MongoDB.

I also bring 1 year of expertise in AI and machine learning projects using TensorFlow, particularly in share market and option trading applications. This adds another dimension to my skill set, enabling me to leverage data-driven insights for optimized decision-making and automation.

As a leader, I bring a solid foundation in Design Patterns and SD Principles, including Factory Design Patterns, Singleton, and MVC Design Patterns. Well-versed in Agile Methodology, including Scrum and Kanban, I foster effective collaboration in fast-paced environments. I ensure streamlined and efficient development workflows by utilizing industry-standard tools such as JIRA, GitHub, Jenkins, and Postman. Leveraging my experience as a Java Tech Lead, proficiency in AI and machine learning with TensorFlow, and expertise in prompt engineering with ChatGPT, I am committed to driving innovation and excellence in software development.
