PROFILE

I am a versatile software developer with 6+ years of both Front-end and Back-end experience, whatever technology was given to me I have done it.

I am a hard worker with a fast learning capability.

I am a team player; I started my career as a trainee lowest label in the team, and now I am a senior engineer, so I have experience in how to deal with teamwork as a team player.

I worked for companies of different sizes. I love working with new technologies with startups.

I have been engaged in design and software architecture of applications.
